Aim for 21

County Board calls for national drinking age

by GLORIA DAVIS

Now that the Wisconsin Legislators have been no help in solving the teen drinking-driving problems of Lake and all the counties in the entire northern half of the State of Illinois because it only made Wisconsin's drinking age the same as Illinois, 19, Lake County politicians are going into action.

At a special press conference manned by members of the Lake County Board, Sheriff Robert (Mickey) Babcox and State's Atty. Fred Foreman, Lake County Board Chairman Glenn Miller announced that the county board, in cooperation with the sheriff's department and the state's attorney's office, was starting a big push backing Congressman John Porter's bill to have federal highway funding withheld from state's that have a legal drinking age under 21.

This type of move is like the one that made the bill lowering the national speed limit to 55 miles per hour a successful one.

Miller said that packets containing the board's resolution supporting a national drinking age of 21, a copy of a local daily newspaper's special section on fatal DUI accidents occurring in the Illinois-Wisconsin border area since Illinois changed its legal drinking age to 21, and a letter addressed to Vice-President George Bush, is being sent out to every member of the United States Congress in an effort to enlist political help in the having Porter's bill passed.

County Board Rep. Robert Depke, Gurnee, had proposed the resolution to the county board.

"I'm not one to ask the federal government to do things for local government except in this case," Depke said.

"This is the most single positive step made towards solving the problem," said Miller.

Depke likened Lake County's highways to "Slaughter House, U.S.A."

Foreman said that his department had been making a concerted effort to properly prosecute drunken drivers and had lost only one case of reckless homicide while under the influence of alcohol inside of two years.

Foreman added that a national study reported that 70 percent of the people serving

Hundreds needed to turn on 'Footlights'

by GLORIA DAVIS

If you were one of the hundreds of people that jammed the halls of St. Peters over the weekend, you already realize what a successful event "Footlights" has become in only its second year.

But most of those that attended this annual school fund raiser probably don't realize the amount of people and the many many hours of love-labor that went into the production of "Footlights, '83."

To start naming them would fill more than one issue of this paper, so we'll begin by mentioning the dozens of willing workers that attacked the classrooms of St. Peters with a vengeance, wielding a hammer or a paint brush in one hand and a ladder in the other, the week before the production opened.

The talent and ingenuity of these people is boundless, from the clever decor in "Calamity's Saloon" to the hand painted ethnic scenes in the "Ristorante International," to the sewing of the costumes used in the two shows that ran three-times nightly on the stage of the main theater, "The Palace."

Weren't the caricatures of Mickey Rooney and Ann Miller in "Sugar Babes," just perfect?

Don't forget the patience of the teachers and the children, many of whom were delighted, as they attended school for almost two weeks in classrooms that look like the inside of a circus tent or a Polynesian bar, or a scene from "Grease."

The dozens of people and the many shifts of workers that were responsible for all that delicious food and those yummy drinks deserve a loud hurrah!

Last, but by no means least we have the group that is really the backbone of "Footlights," the hundred or so entertainers.

Bless these people who tirelessly worked sometimes more than four shows a night, for four nights, making the famed two-a-day vaudevillians look like pikers.

As usually happens in Antioch, this was not only a parish project, but a community one, since many of those involved had no affiliation to St. Peters except community involvement.

ODD CLASSROOMS

St. Peters students have been, and will be, attending classes for next week in classrooms that have showbusiness decor, as "Footlights" goes on for two week-ends. First graders are learning in a circus tent, third grade is reliving '50's, sixth is learning three R's in south seas and fourth graders, like Kara Pagni, right, are studying with giant drawings of Mickey Rooney and Ann Miller of "Sugar Babes" watching over their shoulders.

Three contests in Nov. 8 vote

Although the incumbents on the Antioch High School Board face no challengers on the ballot for the Tuesday, Nov. 11, election, there are contests in the grade school districts.

High school board president, Bob Lindblad, Frank Walsh Jr. and Tony Starcevic will be on the ballot to retain their four-year seats.

Charles Forster and Betty Meyer hope to retain their seats for another two years.

Being challenged in the Antioch Grade School Dist 34 race for retention of their four-year seats are incumbents, Garnet Cook, Jimmy Quendenfeld and Gail Heath. Challenging them for these positions on the board are Robert Olson, William Feezor, Roy Pomrening and Marie Gedville.

Holder of the two-year seat, Bruce Jablonski faces no opposition for his two-year seat and newcomer Phyllis Zora is running for the other two-year seat.

Alice Gantar is the only challenger voters of Emmons Grade School Dist. will find on the ballot. Gantar is trying to upset one of the incumbents, Don Lassard, Ann Kaiser, Richard Becker, Anne Kaiser, Sandra Stefanburg and Jan Raney.

Two members of the Grass Lake School Dist. are anxious for a seat on that school's board.

Ardeen Harris wants one of the four-year seats and Judy Hansen is trying for one of the open two-year seats.

Trying to retain their four-year seats are, Greg LaPlante, John Steitz and John Fleschman, challenged by Harris.

Hansen wants a two-year seat on that board and is trying to unseat either Henry Nohava and Mary Beth Walsh to get it.

Village sign on agenda of village board meeting

The agenda of the regular Antioch Village Board meeting, slated for Monday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p.m., lists consideration of a proposal for a large illuminated sign designating the police department and other village offices, to be put on the lawn of the village hall near the sidewalk.

"People don't even know we're here unless they're residents," said Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz.

Also on the agenda is action on some license approvals. Approval of the license for Wanda's Restaurant, set to open on the southeast corner of the intersection of Rtes. 83 and 173, is up for board action.

POST-EXTRACTION CARE

Question. What sort of special care is recommended after tooth extraction?

Answer. Most probably, your dentist will guide you on post-operative procedures, but here are some advance pointers: An ice bag (or plastic bag filled with ice) or cold compresses applied externally will help to reduce any swelling or pain. There are medications to control pain and reduce infection, if needed. Drink lots of liquids, eat soft, nutritious foods, and avoid hot liquids and alcoholic beverages. For 24 hours, do not brush your teeth near the healing socket. Also, do not smoke, rinse your mouth vigorously, or drink through a straw, since any of these create suction and could dislodge normal blood clotting needed for healing.

A day after extraction, begin rinsing gently with warm salt water after meals to keep the tender area free of food particles. Should you have any persistent negative reactions - pain, swelling, bleeding, fever, nausea or vomiting - call your dentist immediately for instructions.

Sequoits face Belvidere, Wednesday Nov. 9.

Antioch's North Suburban Conference champions will face the Belvidere High School 11 in their first game of the Illinois High School Assn.'s playoffs, at 7 p.m., on Wednesday, Nov. 9, at Belvidere.

Reports are, though Antioch by rights should play that first game at home because of its unbeaten status, the fact that the Sequoits started the playoffs at home last year will take them to Belvidere's home court.

All tickets are priced at $2 and, with only 1,000 available, they will go one sale to season ticket holders only, from 4 to 6:30 p.m., on Monday, Nov. 7, in ACHS Athletic Director Ward Lear's office.

The rest of the tickets will be available in the Commons area, from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., on Tuesday, Nov. 8. Any remaining tickets will be on sale from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., on Wednesday, Nov. 9, in the Commons area.

Standing room only tickets will be on sale at the stadium. Bus rides will be available at $1 for students, $2 for adults.

If the Sequoits should win Wednesday, tickets will go on sale on Thursday, Nov. 10, for Saturday, Nov. 12's game against either Glenbard West or Chicagoland Weber.

Belvidere has a 8-1 record and are the champs of the Northern Illinois Conference-10, a tough conference with a strong reputation for winning that also boasts last year's state champs, Rockford Guilford.

Antioch will have to break the Buck's wishbone offense with the same success that they had against Lake Forest's. Belvidere is also expected to toss play action passes as well run the option.

Antioch will have to have a hard-hitting offense to bust the 52 defense. The Bucks seldom move out of position. Buck's Quarterback Greg Wallace will lead Belvidere's option attack.

The Sequoits will have to continue with the strong defensive action they have shown in past games this season and Wapon's boys will also have to have a lot of balance between their running and passing attacks, enabling a quick switch if one or the other isn't working.

Depke also urged voters to put the pressure on the federal government by writing to their legislators.

Miller, Babcox, who said he had seen his share of dead and injured drunken drivers in the many years he has served Lake County as coroner or sheriff, James LaBelle, county board member, and Dwight Magalius, county administrator, are going to Washington, D. C.

They are going primarily to attend a "jail seminar," but Miller said they would make an effort to see President Reagan while they were in the capitol and enlist his aid in getting the national drinking age raised.

When I think about it When is WAR our job?

by GLORIA DAVIS

Recent events in Lebanon and Grenada have red-lined the periodic WAR headlines in the daily newspapers.

War has been in existence since the first time two cavemen exchanged rocks over a cavewoman, and until the evening tv news was brought into the family home on a daily basis, going to WAR was considered an honorable patriotic duty.

Being a soldier was always listed among the most-desirable occupations and the fact that a good soldier was always considered to be a hero was never questioned until Viet Nam.

Not only was it every able body man's patriotic duty to defend his country when its shores were threatened, but for centuries, army after army returned to be greeted by the loud accolades of their countrymen after conquering other nations in the creation of empires.

But times have definitely changed and the romance of WAR no longer exists in this era of seeing and telling it how it really is.

In WW2 someone said "War is hell," but it took almost 20 years before people started to admit that it was and many decided they didn't want to go there.

In the past, WARS were started over small political insults, the assassination of obscure foreign royalty and most Rebel and Union soldiers died on the bloody battlefields of the Civil War, not ever having seen a slave or not understanding a thing about state's rights.

All this took place in a simpler time when fighting was done with spears, bows and arrows, muskets and one man went down as each spear was thrown or at each powder blast.

The advent of nuclear weapons was also the advent of possible mass annihilation and very few people found this prospect romantic. Many found this heroic price too high.

The Viet Nam War, the most controversial of all, even erased the cowards' stigma from those who left the country rather than fight as far as many people, even statesmen, are concerned.

Shouts of political intrigue, economic mayhem and "it's not our job," were, and are still being heard everywhere.

And now, the worry that our continued presence in Beirut and the invasion of Grenada is "just another case of the U. S. poking its nose where it doesn't belong at the cost of American lives, in WARS like Viet Nam that are unwinnable, are being voiced all over the place.

Gone are the propagandic WW2 movies that idealized a John Wayne fading into the sunset as he defends a Pacific atoll against 100,000 Japanese all by himself, shouting "Come and get it," with "America The Beautiful" swelling in the background.

Now we have tv series like "Love and Honor" that realistically show the fright of soldiers when a maneuver turns into the real thing and toss no shame on the celebration brought about by the cancellation of the mission.

Certainly I wouldn't presume to know the answers or whether we are wrong or right in our military policies in Lebanon and Grenada.

I do know that life is too valuable to be thrown away needlessly but how do we know if the lives of approximately 300 American soldiers, just lost in these countries, were lost in vain.

The face of the world and the policies of the leading governments that control it have become so complex that it is hard for the knowledgeable man-on-the-street to know when we are defending our homeland.

With Communism publicly sworn to swallow the world, imposing policies in direct opposition to, and bent on, destroying the democratic way of life, are we defending that way of life everytime we stop a foreign country from a possible Communist takeover or are we playing at McCarthyism, finding red herrings under every rock.

It is obvious that the United States is the only democratic power that can possibly stop the rest of the world from being trampled under the Soviet boot.

When are we jumping the gun? What is the rule of thumb as to proper military defense timing? Do we stick our fingers in the dike at each possible Communistic leak or do we wait until even our mighty military fist is too small?

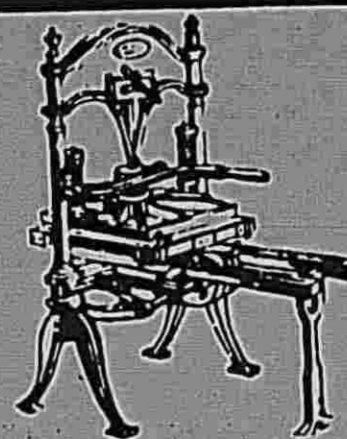

The trouble with this entire situation is the usual in a first-time try. There are really no pat rules to go by, no blueprints guaranteed to build peace because the world situation and the possibilities have never before existed.

Our leaders face problems wherein they are damned if they do and possibly eventually destroyed if they don't.

With the possibility that the wrong moves might prove to be irrevocable ones and the last ones ever made, looming over our leaders' heads, it seems to be the time that we call on that all but forgotten adviser, almighty God, and ask that our leaders be granted his almighty guidance.

Castanets were known in ancient Egypt.

Warriors win 7-6

The Viking Warriors, undefeated during the season, met once defeated Seahawks in a hard hitting defensive game Sunday, Oct. 30.

An early first quarter 45-yard touchdown pass from Tim Haurahan to end John DeBernardis and a point after touchdown run by Billy Wors kept the Warriors in front by a score of 7 to 0. Very late in the fourth quarter, the Seahawks put together a drive down the field and scored on a one-yard run by Paul Neurater.

The all important game tying point after touchdown was unsuccessful, therefore giving the Warriors a 7 to 6 win.

Defensive standouts for the Warriors were John DoBosh, Todd Ludlow, Brian Haurahan and Garrett Horn.

The Eagles, led by a 12-yard touchdown by Wayne Pullen and a six-yard run by Neal Callahan, with the point after touchdown by Mike Buchta, beat the Raiders 13 to 6 to end their respective seasons.

The Falcons led by the hard running of Doug Cowaroto, who scored two touchdowns of 24 and 12-yards and a 10-yard run by Bryon Locker led the Falcons to a 20 to 0 win over the Bears.

Leading the Falcons defensively was Rob Snyder with two interceptions, and excellent efforts registered by Andy Krenke, Joe Rahde, and Kevin Rogan.

Runners to state

Antioch High School's cross country girls' team place fifth at the Class AA section meet on Saturday, Nov. 4, in Schaumburg. The Sequoia are headed for the state meet on Saturday, Nov. 12, at Detweiller Park, Peoria. Chris Eberman placed 21st out of 160 runners.

Juniors lose, 24-12

The Antioch Viking juniors met a hard hitting Winnetka team on Sunday, Oct. 30, and took it on the chin by a score of 24 to 12.

Offensive standouts for the juniors were Jeff Cote and Fred Locher.

The Viking juniors have won the Crown of the Central Division of the Northern Illinois Junior Tackle Football League by their win on Sunday, Oct. 30, over Northbrook, assuring them of a play-off position after the regular season is completed Sunday, Nov. 6 at Mundelein.

The Viking seniors lost 19 to 0 to Winnetka. A 19 point scoring binge was all the points registered by Winnetka.

The second half was dominated by the defense. Troy Schroeder, Bryon Buszta, Larry Miller, and John Miller led the Viking defense with enthusiastic play during the second half.

The Viking seniors, with a season record of four wins and three losses, have not as yet reserved a play-off berth.

We haven't lost sight of the needy.
Have you?

Some people are hurting in northern Illinois. They don't have enough money for food, let alone electricity.

But we're going to help them. To what extent, though, depends on you.

You see that symbol up there can make a lot of difference to a lot of people. It represents a fund we started with $250,000 to help our neediest customers pay their residential electric bills.

And we'll add one dollar to it for every one of you who checks the box that sits next to that symbol on your November electric bill.

There's no direct cost to you. We just need your moral support. If enough of you mark the box, the fund could exceed three million dollars, possibly making it the largest program of its kind in the United States.

But you only have one opportunity to cast a vote.

Once we know how many of you respond, the Salvation Army will review applications on a first-come, first-served basis. Those who meet the requirements will receive a credit of up to $100 toward the payment of their electric bill.

Which should help them until lawmakers can find a long-term solution.

Right now though, it's up to all of us to keep an eye out for them. Won't you?

Cast a vote for generosity.

Village awaits decision of horizontal appeal

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Village of Antioch and Waste Management, Inc., both presented oral arguments on the disposal company's appeal of the horizontal expansion request decision that went in favor of the village, on Thursday, Nov. 3, in the Second Dist. Appellate Court, Elgin.

Atty. Donna Henderson, representing the village, said that, usually a total of 30 minutes is allowed for both side's statements to be made.

Because the court had questions on the case cited by Henderson, the Tazewell County, Peoria case, wherein the court made a decision that technical issues can be considered in such cases, the arguments went over an hour.

Citing this case was brought about by Waste Management's refusal to turn over legal and technical information concerning the operation of the HOD landfill in Antioch going back to the early 70's.

An Assistant State's Atty. Jerry Callahan, who has been in on the Antioch-Waste Management dispute since the first hearings, also appeared for the village.

Henderson said that she expects to be made cognizant of the court's decision within 60 to 90 days or just after Jan. 1.

Bersi stars in 'Heaven'

"Heaven Can Wait," a truly delightful play which inspired the making of two great film comedies, the latter being Warren Beatty's huge success of a few years back, opens next weekend at the PM&L Theatre in downtown Antioch.

"Heaven Can Wait" is the story of a young prizefighter who is mistakenly brought to the "pearly gates" about 60 years too soon. In order to live out his term on earth, he must assume another identity other than his original one, and the resulting complications and plot twists are funny, surprising and tender. It's the kind of play that leaves the audience feeling good about themselves and life in general.

Director Lou Jones of Round Lake has assembled a talented cast and crew with Larry Bersie of Antioch portraying the "flyin' fighter" Joe Pendleton.

Lighting, sound and special effects will be handled by Peter Thelen, Aileen Biel and Mark Heller, all from Antioch. Costuming the production will be Mickey Mandel of Fox Lake.

"Heaven Can Wait" runs three consecutive weekends beginning on Nov. 18 through Dec. 3. Friday and Saturday evening performances begin at 8:30 p.m. There is a special Sunday matinee performance on Nov. 27 at 2:30 p.m.

Tickets are still only $4 each with discounts for students and senior citizens. For reservations and information, call (312) 395-3055. Dinner theatre packages may be obtained through the Village Pub in Antioch by calling (312) 395-3373. The Palette, Masque & Lyre Theatre is located at 877 Main St. in Antioch.

Slate blood screening

Free blood pressure screening will be offered to the public on Thursday, Nov. 17, at St. Therese Area Trauma Satellite (STATS), located on Rte. 59, just south of Grand Ave. in Lake Villa. No registration is required, just stop by between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The medical term for high blood pressure is "hypertension." Left untreated, high blood pressure increases the risk of premature illness or death.
